¹ All Battle Brothers are treated as Allies of convenience, even those within the same faction.

² Unbound armies are allowed for players to have more freedom to build a 2,000 point army under the strong restrictions of the Highlander format. The tournament is giving this freedom in good faith that they will not be abused. Most of the issues of the unbound format are resolved by not allowing multiple units of the same type and by not allowing battle brothers, but if you are trying to think of something to totally break the system, then you are not working within the spirit of the highlander format.

³ Lords of War that are not Super-Heavies or Gargantuan Creatures are allowed.

⁴ This includes Imperial Knights

Tournament Format & Special Rules

Mission Format

Each round of the tournament will run three missions simultaneously. Two missions will be book missions and the third will be a special mission that compliments the other two missions.

Please note that two of the special missions accrue points at the end of every player turn. Be prepared to record that information to prevent confusion.

When the game is complete, the victory points will be recorded for each of the mission formats by placing the number of victory points in each line after the slash as below then totaled.

Victory Conditions

Battle Points / Victory Points

	Frank	Joe
Crusade	___ / 9	___ / 6
Purge the Alien	___ / 4	___ / 11
Special Mission	___ / 5	___ / 5
Total	___ / 18	___ / 21

Then for each mission, the players get battle points as listed below.

- 5 points for a win
- 4 points for a tie
- 2 points for a loss
- 0 points if you concede the game

The Battle Points are entered before the slash for each tournament and totaled

Victory Conditions

Battle Points / Victory Points

	Frank	Joe
Crusade	5 / 9	2 / 6
Purge the Alien	2 / 4	5 / 11
Special Mission	4 / 5	4 / 5
Total	14 / 18	11 / 21

At the end of the tournament, the battle points for every game are added together to determine 1st, 2nd and 3rd place. In case of a tie, Victory Points are used to break the tie.

Highlander Composition Rules

This version of the Highlander Rules introduces a series of composition restrictions designed to create a more diversified mixture of units in the army.

When referring to unit types, a unit type is defined by a codex entry in the army list building section of the codex.

Troop Restrictions

An army list may not duplicate any unit type unless one of the conditions below are met.

1. All of the Troop Units types are exhausted in the codex.
2. Four unique Troop entries are utilized

Once these conditions are met, the player can add a second of each troop unit to the list. If an army has only one troop option, then the player may use up to four of that unit.

If a unit is not normally a troop unit but it is made a troop unit by a special rule, it cannot be duplicated. This unit does count as one of the four unique entries required for condition 2.

If you form an ally detachment, those troop units (and only troop units) are considered unique to the Ally detachment. So if you have a Salamander Army with an Ultra Marines ally, the use of an Ultra Marine Tactical Squad does not prevent you from having a Salamander Tactical Squad. If additional ally troop units are selected, none of them can duplicate within the ally force.

Elite, Fast Attack, Heavy Support, Dedicated Transports, Fortifications and HQ Restrictions

Outside of the Troop units, an army can have no more than one of any unit type. The following rules are clarifications.

- For Special Characters, they not only obtain the unique role but they may count as a generic selection as well. For example, you cannot take Eldrad and a Farseer, because Eldrad is a Farseer.
- Weapon and wargear variations alone do not constitute a separate unit. For example, you cannot take Thunderhammer / Stormshield Terminators and Lighting Claw Terminators because they are both Assault Terminators.
- If a special character or similar rule changes one of these units into another force org slot, it does not allow another unit to be taken, even if the unit becomes a troop. For example, when a war boss joins a group of Knobs, they become troops. This does not allow an addition unit of elite knobs to be added to the list. You cannot use the rules for duplicating troop units in this situation either.
- You cannot add a unit to one detachment that exist in another detachment. For example, you cannot add a unit of Blood Angel Terminators and a squad of Ultramarine (codex space marine) Terminators.
- If some units can exist as upgrade characters for other units, they cannot exist in both units. For example, if you take a Warlock Council you cannot add warlocks to your guardian units.

Allies

All Battle Brothers are downgraded to Allies of Convenience. Independent characters can only join units if they are in the same detachment as the unit they are joining.

Painting Competition

There will be a competition. The subject will be “Independent Characters”. These can be Independent characters, unique, or any named character. If you have any questions, inquire first.

The entry fee for each entry in the painting competition is $3.00. Anyone can enter as long as the miniature is present for judging and the painter is present at the awards ceremony.

One free entry into the competition is part of the registration fee for the tournament. It is non-transferrable and it must be a unit played in the tournament.

The prize for winning the competition is equivalent of 25% of the tournament fees collected plus any of the painting competition entry fees.

Additional rules for the painting competitions can be found on the Hit Point Hobbies Website.

'The Highlander' – Round 1

Missions: Crusade (3 objectives)
Purge the Alien
Special Mission (Controlling Objectives)

Special Mission: At the end of each player turn, the controlling player collects one point per objective they control. The points accumulate each round. At the end of the match the player with the total combined points wins that mission. Slay the Warlord, Line Breaker and First blood have no effect in this mission.

Determine Player 1: Roll off against your opponent. The winner gets to determine if they are player 1 or player 2. Player one will choose table halves, deploy first and have 1st turn (unless stolen).

Table Deployment: Vanguard Strike (End to End) – One Objective is placed in the center of the board. Player 1 places one objective then player 2 places one, and repeat. Objectives must be placed more than 12" from each other and 6" from a table edge. No unit can control or contest more than one objective.

Warlord Traits and Psychic Powers: Role for Warlord Traits as normal, pre-selecting one chart to roll on. Role for psychic powers as normal. Role for Night Fight as normal.

Steal Initiative: Player 2 can choose to steal initiative as normal.

Length of Game: Random turn length as normal

'The Highlander' – Round 3

Missions: Big Guns Never Tire (4 Objectives)
The Scouring (Modified - 5 Objectives)
Special Mission (Ground and Pound)

Special Mission: At the end of the game, calculates points based on the following equation:

$$\begin{aligned} \text{Total Points} = & \text{Total Enemy Fast Attack Killed} + \text{Total Enemy Heavy Support Killed} \\ & + \text{Players remaining Fast Attack Units} + \text{Players remaining Heavy Support Units.} \end{aligned}$$

Determine Player 1: Roll off against your opponent. The winner gets to determine if they are player 1 or player 2. Player one will choose table halves, deploy first and have 1st turn (unless stolen).

Table Deployment: Hammer and Anvil – Player 1 places both 2 objectives in his deployment Zone and the Player 2 places 2 objectives in their deployment zone. The objectives are used for the Big Guns Never tire. They are worth 3 points each for that mission.

The 5th objective is placed in the center of the board. All 5 Objectives are used for the Scouring. After the objectives are placed and before deployment, a D3 is rolled for each objective to determine the number of victory points each objective is worth.

Warlord Traits and Psychic Powers: Role for Warlord Traits as normal, pre-selecting one chart to roll on. Role for psychic powers as normal. Role for Night Fight as normal.

Steal Initiative: Player 2 can choose to steal initiative as normal.
